WINE OF THE MONTH

RÉSERVE BLANC DE BLANCS BRUT.

The secret of sparkling wines is the blend, whether they are from Champagne or other regions of France. This is the winemaker's art. It is the choices he makes that determine what is often referred to as the House style. The style of Charles de Fère is to voluntarily refuse territorial limits, building close partnership relations with growers so that we can select cuvées from northerly vineyards for their freshness and elegance, together with cuvées from southern vineyards for ripe fruit, body and smoothness. This bold approach adds finesse, structure, and a complex harmony of flavors that makes Charles de Fère what it is today.

SHARE YOUR GRATITUDE WITH THOSE WHO TAKE CARE OF YOU.

UNCOMPLICATE YOUR LIFE.

THIS YEAR'S REFRESHING THEME FROM THE SPA WILL HELP YOU reduce stress and tension. Here are a few things to help you uncomplicate your life and reduce stress.

1. PUT THINGS IN PERSPECTIVE. Certain problems are really more of a luxury. See the inconvenience more as a journey and an experience that you are fortunate to have.
2. LOOK FOR THE POSITIVE. If you look for the positive in each situation, you will feel less stressed.
3. GET OFF THE COMPUTER. Most of us have become tethered to computers, cell phones, smartphones, PDAs, TVs, ebook readers, tablets – electronics. Try to detox once a month and feel how freeing it can be.
4. STRESS OVER SOMETHING DIFFERENT. Try something new or that you aren't comfortable with. It's a distraction from your routine which relieves heavy stress. Face your fears and those nagging responsibilities and the less stress you'll take on. Sometimes stressing over the simpler things lightens the load – a new hairdo, a new workout routine or trying a new restaurant.
5. GO OUTSIDE AND PLAY. Feel the fresh air, warm sun and energy from living things that can soothe and recharge your spirit.

GET TO KNOW JOSIE YEARWOOD.

A SIXTH-GENERATION WOODVILLE, TEXAS NATIVE, JOSIE STARTED

both ballet and competitive English riding at the age of three, and never stopped loving either one. She joyfully danced and rode in Beaumont, Texas all through high school, and then took up competitive ice dancing at the age of 15. Josie decided to forego a promising ice dancing career in lieu of a formal education, and hung up her skates after her acceptance to Baylor University. It was there that she discovered Pilates and the worthy challenges it poses. Josie graduated with an English degree and a minor in French, and a year later was certified to teach Pilates through The Physical Mind Institute. She studied under John Gossett of Pilates Concepts of Houston, and later Dr. Mary Bowen of New Haven, Connecticut. Soon after finishing her training she was hired to teach at Element Paris, an exclusive Pilates studio in Paris, where she instructed movie execs, models, actors, ballerinas and athletes. By necessity, she also perfected her French. After returning stateside, she earned her second Bachelor's degree in Psychology.

With ten years of experience teaching Pilates, Josie knows that no two people or bodies are alike. She has experience teaching both pre- and post-natal mothers, hip and knee replacement recipients, scoliosis patients, the hearing impaired, gymnasts, octogenarians, gastric bypass patients, professional ballerinas, the young and the young at heart.

Joseph Pilates was committed to effective, efficient and meaningful exercise designed to keep the mind, brain, and body healthy. It is Josie's goal to maintain that commitment to growth and progress.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT: DAVID CAMPISI.

DAVID CAMPISI WAS BORN AND RAISED IN EAST DALLAS BY A TYPICAL LOVING BIG ITALIAN FAMILY. He went to Bishop Lynch High School, played basketball at junior college in Oklahoma, then transferred to Texas Tech for restaurant, hotel and institutional management.

As a child he worked at the Egyptian Room. Since he was four years old he would butter the garlic bread, make salads and hang out behind the bar standing on beer boxes. He worked side by side with his grandfather who treated him like he was his own son. In 1993 David opened his first Campisi's on Campbell and Coit. He now has eight locations with the most recent at Love Field airport.

He met his wife Niki on a chance meeting one Saturday afternoon and two years ago they got married. The entire wedding party stayed at Rosewood Crescent Hotel. They have a 14 month old son, Joe Campisi II, who is nothing short of their pride and joy.

David has been a Spa member for two and a half years. He enjoys resistance training and cardio, mainly Spin Class and Boot Camp, which he usually takes during the day with the 'who's who of Spa ladies'. David's favorite part of The Spa is the customer service, the wet area and lounging in the locker room.

David loves golf and he and Niki like to snow ski and travel. Their favorite spots are Arizona, Mexico and Europe. David and his family are involved mostly behind the scenes in numerous charities.
