FRANÇOIS ARRIGHI

MANAGING DIRECTOR, ROSEWOOD COURCHEVEL LE JARDIN ALPIN

François Arrighi is the Managing Director of Rosewood Courchevel Le Jardin Alpin and brings over 15 years of leadership in luxury hospitality. François Arrighi has a remarkable career having managed some of France's most celebrated hotels, from Four Seasons Megève and George V Paris to Les Airelles Saint-Tropez and Hôtel Barrière Le Normandy. He brings extensive expertise in openings and seasonal resort operations to his role, where he is committed to delivering an alpine experience defined by Rosewood's Sense of Place philosophy.

At Rosewood Courchevel Le Jardin Alpin, François Arrighi oversees the property's restaurant, Asaya Spa and 51 rooms and suites, each offering a deep connection to the snowy heights of Les Trois Vallées, the largest ski resort in the world, with panoramic seated terraces showcasing breathtaking mountain vistas.
