

THE ICONIC HIDEAWAY ROOTED IN JOY

HAWAI'I

KONA VILLAGE

A ROSEWOOD RESORT

The iconic hideaway rooted in joy, defined by its history, culture and traditions where an innately spirited way of life is met with a profound purpose to protect the land.

An ancient Hawaiian fishing village thrived on Ka'upulehu's shores for centuries. Kona Village echoes their ancient wisdom with a respectful, innovative reimagining shaped by those who know and honor the land. Water, wai, is sacred here. From marine wildlife conservation to the resort's own reverse osmosis treatment plant, this divine element is protected in all its forms.

ʻOhana, meaning family, defines this island. Not only in the conventional sense, but in a bigger, interconnected sense. Guests. Families. Staff members. Local fisherman and farmers. The seasons. The land and the sea. Everything is connected and in harmony.

From the moment you set foot on the sacred shores, the innately joyful and communal energy envelops you. You'll feel it in the multigenerational sense of community. In the open flames of the Island Roots dinner. Or in the home-grown produce bursting with flavor from the fertile, Hawaiian soil. This place rejuvenates those who come to spend time here. It reconnects us – to ourselves, to each other and to the powerful rhythms of the ʻāina.

Kona Village, A Rosewood Resort is a feeling you'll only know once you're here. A feeling that runs deep within us and within the land.
