EXCURSIONS

EXCURSIONS

PHUKET ISLANDS

Phuket has been blessed with a beautiful coastline, calm-water bays and nearby island gems to explore. One of the greatest experiences here is to cruise, snorkel and lunch in these magnificent locations.

The different marinas on the east Phuket coast are approximately a 45 minutes' drive from the resort. Rosewood Phuket works with preferred cruise partners; please let us know your desired destination and date and it will be our pleasure to find the most suitable excursion for you.

The most popular destinations:

Phi Phi Island	Full Day Excursion
Phang Nga Bay	Half/Full Day Excursion
Krabi	Half/Full Day Excursion
Similan Island	Full Day Excursion

PHI PHI ISLANDS

This is an absolutely stunning group of islands located 35 miles southeast of Phuket. It can take from one to two hours to reach by sea depending on conditions so it is a full-day adventure.

Snorkeling is excellent here in the clear waters of blue and green. The islands came to worldwide prominence when Maya Bay was used as a location for the film The Beach. At Monkey Beach you can see the adorable animals scampering close by and it's also a beautiful spot for snorkeling. The Phi Phi Islands are the most popular islands near Phuket so you definitely won't be alone here.

Distance: Hotel to marina takes approximately 45 to 60 minutes; marina to destination is approximately 60 to 90 minutes

PHANG NGA BAY

Here you'll see beautiful limestone cliffs and rock formations, as well as mangrove forests and small and charming islands. Among them are Koh Tapu, known as James Bond Island, where The Man With The Golden Gun was partly filmed, and the interesting Sea Gypsy Village is within easy reach. Phanak and Hong Islands are known for their caves and lagoons. Phang Nga is not a snorkeling location but is suitable for swimming.

Distance: Hotel to marina takes approximately 45 to 60 minutes; marina to destination is approximately 30 to 60 minutes

KRABI

Hong Island is well-known for its craggy, sheer limestone cliffs, dense mangrove forests and views of many offshore islands. There is fine snorkeling along the beach, pleasant sandy strolls and a relaxing and quiet area by a lagoon. At low tide, there is an amazing long white sand bank connecting Chicken Island, Tub Island and Mor Island. Poda Island is also a beautiful spot for snorkeling in crystal clear water.

Distance: Hotel to marina takes approximately 45 to 60 minutes; marina to destination is approximately 60 to 90 minutes

SIMILAN ISLANDS

These nine uninhabited tropical islands in the Andaman Sea offer you first-class snorkeling and diving. They're famous for their white sand beaches, fringed by extensive coral reefs in crystal clear blue water with a rich variety of fish life. The islands themselves are covered by tropical rainforest with large granite boulders in unusual rock formations. The islands are officially open to the public from October 15th to May 15th, but dates may vary each year depending on the weather.

Be aware of the distance. It can take up to three hours depending on sea conditions to reach this destination; a group trip to Similan Island leaves the hotel by car to Tab Lamu Pier in Phang Nga which is approximately two hours from the resort, followed by approximately one hour by boat to the islands.

Private yacht charters are also available.

CULTURAL EXPERIENCES

BIG BUDDHA

Phuket's Big Buddha is one of the most important and revered landmarks on the island. The huge, 45-meter-tall image sits on top of the Nakkerd Hills between Chalong and Kata and the lofty site offers the best 360-degree views of the island. Close up, the atmosphere is very peaceful - the only sounds you hear are the tinkling of small bells, the fluttering of yellow Buddhist flags and soft dharma music. The Buddha's whole body is layered with beautiful Burmese white jade marble that shines in the sun. There is also a smaller brass Buddha and several, much smaller statues, of Buddha and of revered monks.

WAT CHALONG

Wat Chalong, or Chalong Temple, was built at the beginning of the 19th century and is the largest and most-visited of Phuket's temples. Locals and many Thai tourists come to pray and pay respect to several revered monks who were the founders of Wat Chalong. The most recent building on the grounds is the 60-meter-tall "Chedi" that shelters a splinter of bone from Buddha. Walls and ceilings are decorated with beautiful paintings illustrating Buddha's life and there are many golden statues. Wat Chalong Chedi is built on three floors; feel free to climb all the way to the top floor terrace to get a nice bird's eye view of the entire temple grounds.

PHUKET OLD TOWN

Phuket Old Town will captivate your senses and bring to life a bygone era of colonial traders and Chinese and Muslim immigrants. Stroll along sidewalks lined with lively shop houses, smell the incense emanating from a Chinese temple and delight in the market's exuberant fruits and vegetables. Peruse the restored Sino-Portuguese architecture of the 1929-era On On Hotel and the displays of Buddhist amulets, a favorite Thai good luck charm.

Set in a picturesque part of Phuket Old Town, Walking Street is as much a cultural attraction as a great night market. The old Sino-Portuguese houses get lit up in vibrant colors, there's a cornucopia of traditional local foods and Thai handicrafts and you can watch buskers and entertainers perform. Phuket's Sunday Walking Street market, 4 to 9 p.m., called Lard Yai by locals, is now the most popular attraction in Phuket Town.
