

THE MODERN CLUBHOUSE FOR SILICON VALLEY

MENLO PARK

ROSEWOOD

SAND HILL

The modern clubhouse for Silicon Valley is a trusted retreat for visionaries where ideas are shaped around time in nature, shared passions, restorative rituals and the cultural significance of the region.

Tucked into the foothills of the Santa Cruz Mountains is a setting shaped by its surroundings. One that merges the world's finest minds with nature. Built low to the land and open to light, lines between indoors and out are blurred. Views stretch across undulating hills where redwoods rise and native gardens draw birds of prey.

At Rosewood Sand Hill, well-being adopts a Silicon Valley mindset, blending performance, restoration and community. Finnish saunas, basalt and limestone-clad steam rooms and sound baths recalibrate energy and sharpen focus. Curated speaker series, outdoor sport and shared rituals inspire creative thought and meaningful conversations.

Dining follows the same philosophy—refined but relaxed, grounded in region and season. Menus highlight hyper-local ingredients from K&J Orchards, Brokaw Ranch and Dirty Girl Produce. Every meal is a moment to savor what's close to home, by terrace, fire or bar. Rosewood Sand Hill. Shaped by land, led by vision and lived through connection.
