

THE AUSTRIAN LAKESIDE MASTERPIECE

SCHLOSS FUSCHL

ROSEWOOD

SCHLOSS FUSCHL

Nestled along the tranquil shores of a pristine Alpine lake and framed by majestic limestone peaks, Rosewood Schloss Fuschl is an Austrian lakeside masterpiece with a heritage as rich as its surroundings.

Once a 15th-century castle famed for its legendary hunts, this timeless retreat blends Austrian tradition with the rejuvenating essence of nature.

Here, mornings begin with the serenity of a restorative lakeside run, the crisp alpine air awakening your senses. Venture out to fish in the crystal-clear waters or join guided hikes led by a local herbal expert, immersing in the natural wonders of the region.

Discover the art of smoking freshly-caught fish with Gerhard, the master fisherman, or partake in a centuries-old ritual to banish winter spirits. Within the storied walls of the castle, uncover a mesmerizing collection of Renaissance Old Masters that trace the path of European art through the ages.

At Rosewood Schloss Fuschl, nature and history are seamlessly woven into every moment. This is a place where the past enriches the present, and where the spirit of the Alps is celebrated in every detail, offering an escape that is as inspiring as it is restorative.
