THE LEGACY OF BEMELMANS BAR

A favorite neighborhood bar of Upper East Siders and visitors alike, Bemelmans Bar at The Carlyle is a special hideaway where artist and author Ludwig Bemelmans' whimsical drawings come to life. Best remembered for his beloved Madeline series of classic children's books, Bemelmans was commissioned in 1947 to paint the large-scale murals to depict all four seasons in famed Central Park. In exchange for his work, he and his family received accommodation in the hotel for a year and a half. Restored in 2002 by legendary designer Thierry Despont, the bar maintains its Art Deco legacy with chocolate-brown leather banquettes, nickel-trimmed black glass tabletops, a dramatic black granite bar and a 24-karat gold leaf-covered ceiling. Featuring the only surviving Bemelmans' commission open to the public, the bar combines wit and coziness in unique New York style. Live music is featured 365 days a year and the bar is open daily beginning at 12:00 p.m. Guests can enjoy classic cocktails while swinging to live music nightly, including performances from Earl Rose, Rob Mosci, Loston Harris, David Budway and more.
