

THE CURATED MADRID RESIDENCE

MADRID

ROSEWOOD

VILLA MAGNA

The curated Madrid residence of the Paseo de la Castellana boulevard is a charismatic expression of the city and serene urban oasis immersed in a cosmopolitan Spanish lifestyle.

Arrive in a space that is at once grand and welcoming, rich yet considered. Echoing the grandeur of Madrid’s palatial past, Rosewood Villa Magna is a tribute to the former Anglada Palace. Inspired by the golden era of early 20th century design, the residence is one of subtle elegance.

The cultural spirit of the capital comes into focus here, where an extensive art collection spans eras and influences. From Jacky Puzey’s textile-inspired installation to pieces that reflect the soul of Spanish craft, each work contributes to our dialogue between past and present.

Beyond, Barrio de Salamanca extends the story. Mornings in terrazas where conversation unfolds over coffee. Tree-lined avenues give way to ateliers, family-run bakeries and galleries. Lunches drift through the afternoon and as the evening sets in, a vibrant nightlife invites taking time to embrace the soul of the city.

Rosewood Villa Magna is more than a place to stay. It is part of an enriching local way of life.
