TONY MOSCA

MANAGING DIRECTOR, ROSEWOOD WASHINGTON, D.C.

Tony Mosca serves as Managing Director of Rosewood Washington, D.C., the host of Georgetown where the residential culture of the nation's capital comes to life. In his role, Tony oversees all operational aspects of the hotel and fosters a guest experience that integrates the historical richness and vibrant energy of the destination. His passion for facilitating meaningful moments for guests and cultivating team collaboration defines his leadership style and is central to the hotel's success.

Tony brings more than 20 years of experience in luxury hospitality across the globe. He joined Rosewood in 2014 as Director of Food and Beverage at The Carlyle, A Rosewood Hotel, where he played a pivotal role in reimagining the property's culinary program. His leadership contributed to the debut of Dowling's at The Carlyle and the continued success of iconic venues such as Bemelmans Bar and Café Carlyle.
